FOREST FIRES PUT OUT

The Longed-For Rain Comes at Last.

GENERAL IN THE NORTHWEST.

At Some Places It Was a Heavy Down-pour, Doing Considerable Damage—Snow Fell in Colorado—All the Forest Fires in Wisconsin and Michigan Put Out. Long Drought Broken.

DENVER, Sept. 8.—This city and vicinity was visited by a severe storm shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday evening, rain falling in torrents, accompanied by hail and lightning. One house was struck by lightning and slightly damaged, and the movement of streetcars greatly interfered with by rushing water and accumulating sand. In five minutes 0.23 inches of rain fell and the total precipitation for 25 minutes was 0.56.

At Erie a portion of the Burlington roadbed was washed away, but was quickly repaired. Streets were flooded with water. Snow fell in the mountains about Central City. At Golden and Idaho Springs, railway tracks were covered with sand and gravel, and trains were delayed several hours. No serious damage is reported.

Forest Fires Checked.

CUMBERLAND, Wis., Sept. 8.—The first rain for many weeks fell here yesterday, threatening the progress of the forest fires, and relieving present apprehensions. The relief committee for fire sufferers report new cases of destitution still coming from country districts where the condition of things is truly terrible.

Rain All Over Michigan.

ESCANABA, Mich., Sept. 8.—The forest fires that have been raging for some time in this section have been extinguished by a steady downpour of rain that has been falling since 7 o'clock last night. A great deal of property was in danger of destruction. Rain is reported falling all over the peninsula.

Rain Fell For Four Hours.

SAGINAW, Mich., Sept. 8.—The most severe electrical storm experienced here in years, began at 7:30 yesterday evening and continued four hours. The rain fell in torrents, cellars filled up, sewers overflowed and the water is nearly two feet deep on all downtown business streets. Considerable damage has been done.

Heavy Storm, Wind and Rain.

BAY CITY, Mich., Sept. 8.—A heavy storm, wind and rain, accompanied by thunder and lightning, visited this section last night extinguishing all the forest fires. Thomas Laido, a railroad switchman, was struck by lightning and fatally injured.

Forest Fires All Out.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 8.—Reports from Plainfield, Green Lake, Neenah, Green Bay, Hurley, Junction City, Grand Rapids and other cities indicate that the heavy rainfall has broken the drought and effectually quenched forest fires.

PRIZE FIGHT REPRODUCED.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—James J. Corbett fought Peter Courtney of New Jersey six hot rounds yesterday at the Edison laboratory at Orange, N. J. It was witnessed by about 15 men and every move of the pugilists was reproduced on Mr. Edison's kinesiograph. There was no ring but the fight took place in a room 12 feet square, the walls of which were padded.

The rounds averaged about 1 minute and 30 seconds each and there was a wait of from one minute and a half to two minutes between each. Courtney was full of business and rushed Corbett for all he was worth during the first round; when it came to a clinch Corbett would fight him off, but a gamer man never faced the champion. In the third round Corbett knocked his man down, and could doubtless have put him out if he had chosen. Every round was fast and furious, and it was not until the sixth round that Corbett put his man to sleep.

EXPRESS TRAIN DITCHED.

An Open Switch Causes a Disaster on the Santa Fe.

RATON, N. M., Sept. 8.—The California express, westbound, on the Santa Fe, was derailed at Dillon Junction, two miles south of here, yesterday evening. The engine, baggage car, mail car and express car are a complete loss. The engines lie on its side, 20 feet from the track, half buried in the mud.

Fireman Joe Meuden, slightly bruised about the head and body.

Mail Clerk H. G. Russell, several cuts about the head.

The cause of the wreck was an open switch.

Four Lives Lost in a Fire.

KAMOURASKA, Que., Sept. 8.—Four lives were lost in a fire that broke out yesterday in the house of David St. Pierre. The violence of the wind carried the flames to the adjoining houses, three of which were consumed. The victims were: David St. Pierre, Dame Veuve, Thade Paradis and Abraham Lapoint.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The Supreme Lodge Nearing the Close of Its Session.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias is nearing the close of its sessions. A movement was started yesterday to erect a monument to Major Rathbone, the founder of the order, who is buried at Utica, N. Y. Washington lodges will endeavor to raise a fund to purchase the hall which was the birthplace of the fraternity.

The supreme lodge yesterday set aside the action of the supreme chancellor and major general of the uniform rank in dishonorably dismissing from that rank T. D. Crichton of Fresno, Cal., on the ground that he had not been given a hearing. Much interest is taken in the case in the west. This action still leaves it open for the preferment of charges.

The local executive committee of the Knights of Pythias encampment last night decided not to pay the $500 drill prize awarded to the First Indianapolis battalion, Colonel Heiskell commanding, because the company did not conform to the drill orders of General Carnahan. Colonel Heiskell declares he will carry the matter to the supreme lodge and if necessary to the courts. The supreme lodge has adopted the report of the committee on board of control of the endowment rank recommending that no insurance shall hereafter be paid to beneficiaries of suicides.

GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT.

The Geological Survey Issues Practical Information.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Practical information for the guidance of all interested in the good roads movement is embodied in an important report of the United States geological survey on the geology of the common roads of the United States, prepared by Geologist N. S. Shaler. The report outlines the history of American roads, discusses the geological relations of common roads, and the geological condition of road materials and reviews the sources of supply of road stones. The report says a disadvantage arises from the fact that almost half the area of this country, that part of it having nine-tenths of its crop-giving value, lacks adequate materials for highway construction.

"Our railway authorities should be brought to realize the importance to the development of their ways in favoring the transportation over their lines of road making materials. The greater number of roads in this country are in effect branches of one or more railways. So far only a few railways have been disposed to foster them betterment of highways by fixing the charge for materials for their construction at actual carriage cost."

Running Fight With Outlaws.

EL RENO, O. T., Sept. 8.—A running fight occurred west of this city between a force of deputy marshals and a posse of Indian scouts and the notorious Bill Doolin's band of outlaws. The officers had been pursuing the outlaws several days. One Indian scout and his horse were killed, and two of the horses of the outlaws were captured. The outlaws escaped into the Wichita mountains, in the Kiowa and Comanche country. The officers have been reinforced by 50 armed Comanche militiamen, and have the bandits surrounded in the mountains.

Sawmill Blown to Pieces.

THREE RIVERS, Que., Sept. 8.—Cannon's sawmill, on the St. Maurice river, opposite this city, was blown to pieces yesterday by the explosion of the boiler. Samuel Beanger, the fireman, was blown 100 feet and killed. The following were badly scalded and otherwise injured: Philip Caudet, Daniel Lerouger, legs broken; N. Sanatele, wounded by broken glass; Phil Mercler, Rochou and Theodore Bundocks, father and son, injured about the face; Joseph Carboneau, legs hurt.

Smiling an Electric Line.

MARTIN'S FERRY, O., Sept. 8.—William Moffat, a Martin's Ferry glassworker, asks for $500 damages from the Bellaire, Bridgeport and Martin's Ferry electric railway because he was put off a car while returning from Wheeling Creek during the mining troubles. Moffat paid his fare and pulled the bell-cord to stop the car for a lady.

OWENSBORO, Ky., Sept. 8.—Charles Stuart, 14 years old, has been sentenced to one year in the penitentiary for grand larceny. He stole $67 and five diamond rings from a trunk. He is said to have been taught to steal when 4 years old.

Accident on the Fair Grounds.

NORWALK, O., Sept. 8.—King O'ham, son of W. W. Graham of this city, a nephew of General John C. Black, was seriously injured at the Huron county fair grounds by a runaway team.

Murder Over a Game of Cards.

MIDDLETOWN, Ky., Sept. 8.—John W. Gibson was shot and mortally wounded by James Lewis over a game of cards. Lewis fled but was captured, and released on giving $500 bail.

An Old Lady Killed by Cars.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 8.—Mrs. Lucretia Fox, aged 70, residing near Lowellville, while crossing the Pennsylvania tracks, was struck by a freight train and instantly killed.

Struck Against a Reduction.

UTICA, N. Y., Sept. 8.—The weavers in the Globe woolen mills have struck against a reduction of wages. The mills employ about 1,100 operatives.

Missing For More Than a Week.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 8.—George Barr of Osborn has been missing for more than a week.

BUSINESS BAROMETER

R. G. Dun & Company's Weekly Trade Review.

NO STARTLING FEATURES.

In Some Lines Business Has Improved, While in Others It Has Diminished. Labor Troubles Having Their Effects in the East—Crop Prospects Not Encouraging—Business Failures.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: The business outlook is much like an April day, with alternate clouds and sunshine. In some branches strong improvement still continues, while in others trade is diminishing. Strikes lessen for the time the working force perhaps as much as it is otherwise increased, but the strike of the garment makers spreads so rapidly that an early end is considered certain, while the strikes in the cotton mills have advanced prices so much that a settlement is thought not distant.

The government crop report is expected to foreshadow a great loss in corn, while other observers believe reports materially exaggerated and estimates of the yield range all the way from 1,500,000,000 to 1,700,000,000. This uncertainty affects business prospects to some extent and an advance of half a cent the past week has followed receipts not half those of the same week last year. Wheat receipts have been 5,677,167 bushels, against 4,550,327 last year, and yet the price advanced half a cent, although Atlantic exports were only 1,155,674 bushels, against 2,111,644 last year. Pork advanced 25 cents per barrel and lard 25 cents per 100, as smaller estimates of the corn supply were entertained.

The first bills against spot cotton of the new crop have appeared, and the Financial Chronicle estimates the yield at 8,500,000 to 9,000,000 bales, its record of last year's crop being 7,527,211 bales, though late in the year some prophets predicted only 6,500,000 bales. To all appearance the new crop will exceed the maximum world's consumption of America, of which the stock carried over Sept. 1, here and abroad, was 1,589,434 bales.

The sales of wool have fallen to 4,115,100 pounds, of which about 1,000,000 pounds actually belonged to the previous week, against 7,616,500 in 1892, and domestic fine wool has weakened about 1 cent at Boston, although Australian has advanced 1-2 cents with stronger foreign markets.

Failures in August aggregated liabilities of $10,139,477, of which $8,173,330 were in manufacturing and $5,078,145 in trading concerns. During the week the failures were 215 in the United States against 323 last year, and 47 in Canada, against 25 last year.

CRONIN CASE DUPLICATED.

Prominent Physician Probably Meets the Chicago Man's Fate.

ELKHART, Ind., Sept. 8.—This section is worked up over the disappearance of Dr. W. A. Conkling of Cassopolis, a village just over the Michigan line, north of this city. All the indications are that he has been "Croninized." The circumstances are as follows:

Tuesday night, near midnight, Dr. Conkling, whose wife is an invalid, was called to his door by two men, who said they desired his services at his office, which is some distance from his residence. A few minutes after his departure with the men Mrs. Conkling heard a wagon pass the house at breakneck speed.

Two hours passed and the physician did not return. Unable to bear the suspense longer Mrs. Conkling caused a man to be sent to the doctor's office, where everything was found in the utmost confusion, the furniture overturned and smashed, and the evidence of a fearful struggle on every hand. The doctor was nowhere to be found. The village was aroused and search made in every direction, but to no purpose. Stone lake was visited, but nothing could be discovered that tended to clear up the mystery. The lake has been dragged but with no success, nearly everybody in that part of the county giving aid.

Dr. Conkling's brother from Manchester, Mich., has arrived at Cassopolis, and is doing everything possible to ferret out the mystery. He says his brother was a prominent witness in a murder case that is to be tried in the eastern part of Michigan, and he ascribes his disappearance to this fact. For several days previous to the mysterious disappearance two strange men had been hanging about the place.

Smugglers Captured.

ST. CLAIR, Mich., Sept. 8.—John Jacobs and John Green, said to be members of a gang of smugglers with headquarters at Windsor, were arrested at 2:30 a. m. The prisoners crossed the river in a rowboat with two trunks and about 600 pounds of opium and were nabbed by detectives, who had been laying in wait for them. The opium was obtained in Toronto. The capture is believed to be an important one, as the prisoners are thought to be experienced hands in the importing business with many big consignments of poppy juice to their credit in the past.

Democratic Mass Meeting.

ATLANTA, Sept. 8.—A mass meeting of Democrats was held in this city yesterday. The principal features were the speeches of Speaker Crisp, reviewing the work of congress, and of Secretary Hoke Smith, against the free coinage of silver. Speaker Crisp declared his personal preference for the free coinage of silver. Much enthusiasm was displayed.

NO PROSPECT OF A SETTLEMENT.

The Strikers in Mass Meeting at Cooper's Union Decide to Stay Out.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—A mass meeting of strikers was held in Cooper Union last night. It was a demonstration made by garment makers and operators in the clothing trades against the "sweating" system. The hall was crowded and a determination was expressed not to return to work until the system was abolished.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, denounced the sweating system as "damnable and accursed." "We must have victory or we will die for it," said Mr. Gompers excitedly.

John Swinton said the strike was a fight for life and death against the plunderer and the millionaire. He believed in strikes. The law could not be depended upon because the judges were corrupt. The church was cringing to the money power, and the press was arrayed against the striker. The plutocratic republic was a failure, said Mr. Swinton, and he finished by denouncing President Cleveland as "Hangman Jack Ketch of the White House."

Resolutions were passed expressing the determination of the strikers to continue the struggle until they secured more wages, less hours of labor and better factory accommodations.

The clothing contractors met last night and decided to form an association. They say they can not afford to give the wages required by the strikers. There will be another conference between the contractors and strikers.

POLICE OFFICER SHOT.

He Is Fired Upon by Two Burglars and Badly Wounded.

NORFOLK, Ind., Sept. 8.—Burglars broke into the planing mill office of Frank Metsker & Company about 1 o'clock yesterday. The noise incident to opening the office door attracted the attention of Merchant Policeman John Harris, who started to investigate.

Coming within range, the burglars opened fire on him. The first shot struck Mr. Harris in the groin, inflicting a severe, though not necessarily fatal, wound. The engineer at the electric light works, nearby, looked out to see what was the trouble, and the burglars fired two shots at him, after which they fled. There is no clue to the identity of the robbers.

A Fever-Ridden Madman's Death.

ANDERSON, Ind., Sept. 8.—Mrs. William Wiams is dying from injuries inflicted by her husband last night. In a fit of delirium, superinduced by fever, he leaped from his bed, and bit, choked, pounded and dragged his wife for a half hour. A neighbor and two policemen finally overpowered the maniac and landed him in jail. Mrs. Wiams was choked into insensibility and big pieces of flesh were torn from her face and arms, by the madman. He also demolished the household furniture, broke all the windows, after which he ran into the street entirely nude, and was captured.

Depew Not a Candidate.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—A special dispatch from London to The Press says: Chauncey M. Depew was seen at the Hotel Savoy. When asked whether he would accept the Republican nomination for governor of the state of New York, he said: "I am not a candidate for the nomination. Before I left New York, leading men of the different factions of the Republican party called upon me and said if I would accept no other name would be put in nomination. I at that time positively declined. Since then I have received a large number of letters and cablegrams on the subject."

Circus Seized.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 8.—Yesterday at Gibson City United States Marshal Brinton seized Adam Forepaugh's circus on a writ of attachment issued by Judge Allen of the United States circuit court by George Coupe, late chief musician, who filed a suit for $10,000 damages in the court here for personal injuries received at the hands of the proprietors of the show, whom, he alleges, brutally assaulted him and set a hound on him at Alma, Kan., and disabled him for life. He claimed the circus was going to leave the state.

STRIKERS TESTIFYING

SOME DAMAGING TESTIMONY.

Telegrams Bearing Debs' Signature Read in Court—What They Contained—An Exciting Scene in Court Between the Judge and One of the Attorneys—The Proceedings of the Day.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—The examination of railway strikers was begun yesterday in the trial of the American Railway union officials. Switchman Krieger of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul testified that Con McAuliffe, head of the Milwaukee American Railway union, had come to him with a request from Debs that all the Milwaukee railway men strike.

"McAuliffe said that Debs was sure we would win," the witness said, "and urged us to go out. I replied that if we could be assured that our places would be secure if the strike should be lost, that the men would strike. Not many of them went out, however."

A fireman on the St. Paul road testified that he had left his place because of intimidation, and an engineer on the same line said he was told that if he did not leave his engine he would never get out of Chicago alive.

William I. Henry of Kankakee, a switchman in the employ of the Illinois, Indiana and Iowa railroad, was the next witness and one of the most important offered by the government, because he had personally received a telegram ordering him to call out the men. Mr. Irwin objected to the testimony because it concerned a road not included in the injunction, but the court decided to admit the evidence as possibly throwing light on the intentions of the respondents. Replying to Mr. Walker the witness produced several telegrams he received at Kankakee, signed E. V. Debs. All of these he read. The first was received by witness on July 1 and read: "Adopt measures to get Big Four out. Promise protection to all, whether members are not. Appoint good committee and wire name of chairman."

At that time witness was a member of the American Railway union. Witness showed the telegram when he received it to several switchmen, but took no further action.

At the afternoon session several witnesses took the stand and testified to acts of violence committed at various points during the continuance of the strike. Their evidence was strenuously objected to by the defense on the ground that it was wholly foreign to the issue because it did not show that any of the actual defendants in the case—Debs, Howard, Keliher, Rogers or any of the other directors of the American Railway union—were in any way connected with such disturbances. Mr. Walker, assistant United States attorney, always replied that he would show how the connection came later, and the evidence was promptly admitted by the court upon that assurance.

The defense objected to all testimony that dealt with the acts of the strikers before July 2, the day on which she injunction of Judges Wood and Grosceup, the basis of the contempt suits, were posted. In overruling this objection the court said that such evidence was admitted to show that the situation on the days immediately succeeding the posting of the injunction was no better than before, or, in other words, that no attention was paid to the orders of the court.

Just before the afternoon session adjourned Mr. Irwin arose and burst into a heated denunciation of the government's attorneys. He said: "The government has no more right to lay before your honor this strained condition of public duty than it has to vex the public by this proceeding."

Judge Woods seemed surprised at Mr. Irwin's sudden outbreak, then leaning forward in his chair, calmly said:

"The court, of course, gives counsel credit for candor in all of his objections, and has not announced to the contrary in one way or another, and so far as the burden thrown on the court is concerned the court will necessarily have to bear it. But it is expressly averred in this information that these scenes of violence did go on, and that your people were responsible for them. Now, I don't pretend to know or say or guess how far the government can carry its proof in that respect, but I don't see, because one witness has testified to a thing, that I not have the right to allow another to testify to the same thing."

"Of course, so far as the public is concerned, it is desirable that no mistake shall be made, and in the end it will be the responsible duty of the court to put the matter in shape so that the public will understand how we have proceeded."

Adjourned.

Two Brothers Instantly Killed.

WEBSTER, Mass., Sept. 8.—Joseph Arnold, a local merchant, and his brother, R. H. Arnold of Elmira, N. Y., who was visiting in town, went driving yesterday and were struck by a train on the south bridge branch of the New York and New England railroad and instantly killed. The bodies were thrown over 100 feet and were mangled in a terrible manner. The wagon was demolished and found 50 feet from the track. The horses were not injured.

The income tax will strike William Waldorf Astor to the tune of $175,000; but as he has an income of more than $8,000,000 he won't be badly hurt.

The Fifty-second Congress was obliged to provide $175,736,816.79 and the Fifty-third Congress in the session just closed $65,723,685.92 to meet the obligations imposed upon the country by the Fifty-first Congress, which was Republican.

The Associated Press, it seems, has started out lately in an effort to rival Joe Mulhatton. The Pittsburg Leader says the dispatch sent out this week by the association telling about the swallowing up of the village of Scotch Valley, near Hazelton, was a rank fake.

For the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1893, we imported goods to the value of $866,000,000. Of course, says The Commercial Gazette, we had to pay for them, and the money they cost is gone from the country.—Public Ledger.

If the Commercial Gazette and the Public Ledger would hunt up the statistics they would probably find that the foreigners took just about $866,000,000 worth of our own products in return for the goods we imported.

SELLING CARPETS TO FOREIGNERS.

Republicans have been howling over the Democratic tariff bill and making all sorts of dire predictions, but they want to go a little slow. Their predictions are not apt to come true and then they will be in a nice box.

They have been doing lots of talking about the ruin free wool is going to bring about,—in their minds. They lose sight of the fact, however, that some of the manufacturers of this country have been doing business on a "free wool basis" under the late McKinley bill. On this point the New York Times says:

We have recently spoken of the exports of American carpets to England and the sale of them in London, Liverpool and other English cities. It appears that the American manufacturer is competing with the English manufacturer in Australia also. A prominent firm in Melbourne, advertising a sale of carpets in June last, offered American Axminster, concerning which it published the following:

"American Axminster carpets have already made a name for themselves. They are an ideal carpet, chaste in design, choice in color, all of the finest wool, and, best of all, low in price, undoubtedly the best value in any make ever offered in this city."

They were to be sold at $1.22 per yard, while the advertised price of the English Axminsters and Wiltons was $1.58. The exporting manufacturers of American carpets have carried on this foreign trade upon a free wool basis, receiving from the Government a rebate of 90 per cent. of the duties paid on the wool used in the carpets shipped abroad. Hereafter they will be still better equipped for the export trade, because their wool will be free of all tax. We expect to see this trade steadily increase.

How the Democratic Tariff Does Paralyze Things.

IronTrox, Ohio, September 5.—The Belfont Furnace, Foster Stove Company, Yellow Poplar Lumber Company's Mills, Newman & Spanner's Saw and Planing Mills, Kelley Nail Mill, Penn Lumber Company's Planing Mills and the Belfont Rolling Mill and Nail Factory all went into operation here this week, running full time. The large furnace of the Means-Kyle Company at Hanging Rock will "blow in" in about thirty days. In addition to this every manufactory and furnace in the county, with three exceptions, is in active operation and all report a healthy increase in business.

DEAR OLD MAYSVILLE.

Her Sons Never Forget Her No Matter Where They Wander—An Open Letter.

TALLAPOOSA, GA., September 5th, 1894.
It has been said that no matter how far you wander over this large, round, fat old world you will always find some one from dear old Maysville, and this was so strangely verified in my own case last Sunday, September 2nd, 1894, that I thought it might interest some of the folks left behind in the city by the river side to hear how we Maysville boys met on that sacred day in the city of iron and coal, Birmingham, Alabama. I had been asked to come over there and fill the pulpit of the South Highland Presbyterian Church and when I reached there I found the absent pastor of that beautiful church was Rev. John Barbour, of Maysville, then gone to see his parents. When the time came to take up collection who should walk down the aisle, with that manner so distinctive of nature's perfect gentlemen, but genial Will Chenoweth, of Maysville, and as the sermon made progress and at its close the thought in harmony reached upward unto heaven and memory reverted to one of long ago who used to sing as sweetly of that land in dear Maysville, and I told them of how that dear sainted soul Mike Ryan used to win us boys from the street while he sang,—

"Oh come, angel band,
Come and around me stand,
Oh bear me away on your swowy wings
To my immortal home."

and how he had gone on to glory and I, one of the boys who had sat at his feet entranced, was now following on to the self same happy land, wooed by the song he sang long ago when Mr. James Barbour was Superintendent in the chapel in East Maysville.

What face do you suppose it was in the audience there last Sunday that bathed, in tears, looked up into my face? None other than that of genuine, honest-hearted, true-as-steel John Ryan from Maysville. And the way those Maysville boys—grown men now—gripped me after service and took me off home with them, to Will Chenoweth's! And John Ryan went along, and we talked of all—the dear ones in Kentucky far away—those living—those gone to live above—ah I tell you BULLETIN we had a camp meeting time there last Sunday, and we straightened Presbyterianism had a love feast that put our Methodist friends in the shade.

Then when I went down town Monday who should I meet but sturdy, broad-shouldered Charley Orr, and he told me his brother was there and his mother was coming, and all of them told me that Henry Chenoweth had been there with them and had won countless friends with his big-hearted whole-souled ways. I wish I could have seen him once more. Here's greeting to him and blessing wherever he is. And when I took the train for home John Ryan came all the way with me, talking always of Maysville and its beauty and the dear people who had been and are there. And BULLETIN let me tell you these Maysville boys stand high—foremost men are they, and I am glad I met them there so good and kind and cheery, and wherever I go I want to find the boys, young and old, from dear Maysville, for even when I get to heaven, as I hope to some day, I expect to find many a one to greet me there as we take our way to the Father's home.

Here's greeting and love to dear never-to-be-forgotten old Maysville and all therein. Sincerely,
JAMES WOOD POGUE.

J. W. PARKER, living near Owingsville, went out into his field to drive up his cattle when he was attacked by a bull. He struck the animal with a stick but that did no good. He was knocked down and in desperation grabbed the beast by the ring in its nose, but the brute tossed him about as if he had been a rag, breaking his ribs and mangling him up terribly. Men near by heard his cries and with pitchforks in hand they pierced the brute until they got Mr. Parker away. The beast afterwards made an attack on another man who shot him. The owner of the animal was attacked the next morning when he put an end to the bull with a rifle. Mr. Parker, the man first attacked, will probably die.

An Opinion of Pugh.

[Owingsville Outlook.]

Samuel J. Pugh, personally, is a man of pleasant address, but he differs in no especial degree from hundreds of young men who have had the advantages of education and an assured position in society by reason of wealthy connections. That he is a very ordinary man when considered as an aspirant for Congress is only too plainly apparent. Neither by his speeches nor a personal canvass can he arouse any particular enthusiasm.

A NEGRO SHOT.

He Entered a Barn Near Lewisburg From Which Tobacco Had Been Disappearing.

Chambers Pearl, colored, was shot and dangerously wounded near Lewisburg Thursday night.

From the information at hand it seems that for some time tobacco had been disappearing from a barn on the farm of Captain James Davis, and the conclusion was that some individual in the neighborhood could tell all about it and just what had become of the missing weed.

But the point was to find the individual, and it was finally decided to place a watch at the premises.

This was done on Thursday evening. Mr. Amos Hunt secured the doors, and concealed himself in the barn.

Between eleven and twelve o'clock at night some one forced the door open and entering approached a bulk of tobacco and began helping himself.

Just about that time Mr. Hunt opened out on the intruder with a double-barrel shot-gun, wounding him badly in the face and shoulder.

The wounded man gave his name as Chambers Pearl and claimed he had gone in the barn to get a rest. He is about twenty-one years old and lives on the farm of Mr. Thomas L. Best. He was in a serious condition this morning with the chances against him. If he recovers he will lose the sight of his right eye.

Hale and Hearty at Ninety-five.

Flemingsburg Times-Democrat: "On Monday last two gay young men, Ben T. Mills, who will be ninety-five in November, and Thomas P. Sutton, who was eighty on last Wednesday, got into the buggy of the latter and drove out to spend the day with the youngest and only living daughter of Mr. Mills, Mrs. C. B. Tully, near the Mason County line. Several old friends called in, among them, John Collins, Rev. J. B. Ewan and Mrs. Ben Kirkland, a granddaughter of Mr. Mills. Uncle Ben says he ate a good dinner, sang a song and enjoyed himself very much, returning home that night."

THE UNIFORM RANK.

The Supreme Lodge, Knights of Pythias, Takes Important Action This Week.

A special from Washington City says that an important matter, which was settled by the Supreme Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, this week, was the adoption of the report of the special committee on the Uniform Rank.

The result is to practically divorce the Uniform Rank from the Supreme Lodge. The latter body will make general laws for its guidance, but will create a Supreme Council, consisting of the Major General of the Uniform Rank, his Adjutant General and the brigade commanders of the various domains.

This council will be under the Supreme Lodge only so far as that the election of the Major General by the Uniform Rank must be ratified by the Supreme Lodge, of which he shall remain an officer. Beyond that the Uniform Rank is made practically an independent organization. It will have absolute control of its own finances and may make its own laws.

SUFFERING OF FISHERMEN.

Hardships Endured by Those Along the Baltic Coast.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—A dispatch from Helsinki, capital of Finland, tells the story of dreadful sufferings experienced a few days ago by men employed in the Baltic fisheries. The fishing fleets were all at sea when a terrific gale sprung up, forcing the boats to run for shelter. Some of them reached harbors of refuge and there rode out the storm.

Eight of them, however, lost their bearings and ran on the Neerpes islands, where the tremendous seas soon pounded them to pieces. The islands are principally desolate rocks whose frowning, jagged fronts menace the destruction of anything that is caught ashore upon them. As the seas swept over the wrecked fishing boats, before the latter broke up, they carried away 15 fishermen, whose bodies, concealed by the raging waters and the spume of the sea, were never afterward seen.

Those left on the boats knew that their vessels were doomed and made what few preparations were possible to get ashore. There seemed to be only one chance in a hundred of their reaching a place of safety, but this chance they took and landed on one of the islets, most completely exhausted. For three days the storm raged with unabated fury, and the men, who were without food, were exposed to its full force.

At the end of the three days a passing vessel was sighted and in response to the fishermen's signals ran in under the lee of the isle and sent boats to take off the shipwrecked men. In the meantime two of the fishermen had succumbed to their terrible experiences, and their bodies were left on the island. The rescued men were in a pitiable condition. Several of them were unconscious when found, and it is feared that some of them will die.

War Still Reigns in Brazil.

They declare that they will raise the flag of the monarchy upon their arrival.

The three men, Gustave Quick, Robert Brown and Austin Crook, were thrown to the ground. Quick's back was broken and he can not live. Brown was fatally injured internally and Crook had both legs broken.

ZANESVILLE, O., Sept. 8.—John Daily, a potter of Crooksville, met a terrible death near that place. Daily went to sleep on the Columbus, Sandusky and Hocking railway track, and the early morning train ran over him, splitting his head open and grinding his body to pieces.

Whisky Seized For Debt.

OWENSBORO, Ky., Sept. 8.—The Sheriff levied on 80 barrels of old Daviess county whisky in free bonded warehouse belonging to P. H. Heffron of Chicago for the Glenmore Distilling company to secure payment of $7,685.35 on account.

Town Taken Possession Of.

THE HAGUE, Sept. 8.—An official dispatch from Lombok, Dutch East Indies, says that the Dutch troops bombarded Arven, one of the strongholds of the revolting natives, and then took possession of the town without opposition.

THE HOWL AND THE HUM.

Business Continues to Revive and the Hopes of Republicans are Declining.

Republican hopes of victory in November are based on continued depression in trade. Nothing could be worse for them than a revival. If trade continues depressed they may win; if trade revives and shows that it has permanently revived, they will lose.

It is the perversity of fate that trade refuses to go to the how-ows in verification of their predictions. The disasters that were to flood the country as soon as the coping was knocked off the McKinley wall refuse to show up. On the contrary, there is a well defined impulse toward a general improvement in trade. Attempts to deny this, to belittle the extent of it, or to shake confidence in the permanence of it, are resorted to in vain. The evidence is too strong. It looks very much as if it would be difficult to work the old confidence game at the polls this time. The Republican press keeps up a dismal chant of pessimism, but mark how the hum of industry breaks in on the dolorous tune.

The Dry Goods Economist says that "if there has been any question touching the genuineness of the improvement in wholesale business, there can certainly be no doubt about the matter in New York this week."

"Cladlin's, which is one of the best barometers in the trade, has looked as it did in ante-panic times, and all the jobbers have done an excellent business. In many of the domestic dress goods houses the rush has been of an exhilarating description. An Economist man this week asked the manager of one of the prominent accounts how things were going, and for a reply was told that they 'expected next week to begin selling the tables and gas fixtures as there would be nothing else left to sell.'"

The lumber trade is surviving even the shock of free lumber. The Southern Lumberman says there is a decided improvement in business:

"There is certainly a tone of confidence in the market and a more hopeful feeling as to fall and winter trade. At Eastern points, like Boston, this feeling is especially manifest. The Boston market for lumber is decidedly better in some directions, with increased inquiry. The tariff act has not materially changed the situation for the present as regards free lumber, except that larger supplies are expected to be sent in from Canada in a finished state and less in the rough. There is a fair demand at Boston for all kinds of southern lumber—rift flooring taking the lead, and the demand for cypress steady. In the lake markets trade is good and movement quite active."

The iron trade also refuses to collapse on account of the tariff tinkering, but is as buoyant as a hard-headed Democrat. The Iron Age grudgingly concedes improvement:

"The wire nail factories and barb wire works are starting up again."

"On the whole, prices for Bessemer pig iron and soft steel have held up very well, but there is a feeling among the buyers, the rolling mills, that prices must come down, since the markets for finished iron and steel are down to the lowest prices reached this year, and in some cases are below that level. Raw material is certainly cheap. Reports have it that Mesaba ore has been offered below $2.25. A significant fact is that American cotton tie makers have captured orders during the week in competition against free foreign cotton ties. Ability to make quick delivery helped them, but it does begin to look as though they will be able to hold a very big share of the business if they are fairly supported by the billet mills and get decent rates of freight."

This last is a crowning injury—the successful competition of a formerly pampered industry with the free product of foreign labor.

Reports are of great activity at all the pig-iron furnaces, and the Chicago letter of the Engineering and Mining Journal says that "with the pig-iron on hand, and with the accumulation of orders of the past few weeks and those bound to come in, it can be safely said that the furnaces will have all they can do for months to come to turn out enough to supply the demand."

Pork Packing.

[Cincinnati Price Current, September 6th.] Again a reduction is shown in the marketing of hogs, the packing returns indicating a total of 190,000 handled by Western establishments during the past week, compared with 220,000 the preceding week, and 220,000 for the corresponding period last year. From March 1st the total is 6,885,000 hogs, against 5,210,000 a year ago. Decrease for the week 30,000, an increase for the season of 1,675,000, compared with last year. The quality of the current offerings does not appear to have improved, and is generally unusually poor, for reasons which have been previously stated, incident to the special conditions of the season. It is quite likely that a change to a better average and a tendency to improvement in quality will soon be indicated.

Prices of hogs have been further advanced, the gain for the week as shown in the average at the close for Western centers being about 25 cents per 100 pounds compared with a week ago, the general average being about $5.85 to $5.90, and extreme figures reaching 50 cents per 100 pounds higher in some instances.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by J. James Wood.

COMING TO CAMP.

Pittsburg is Already Filling Up For the Big Encampment.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 8.—The influx of G. A. R. men, with their wives and daughters to attend the national encampment, has begun. Every thorough train arriving here had extra sections attached to accommodate the increased travel. The people arriving come from distant points, and are in advance of their organizations.

Only one post has arrived so far. It came from Washington, D. C. The streets are rapidly filling up, and the G. A. R. blue is everywhere in evidence. The local committees are almost rushed to death with putting final touches on all the arrangements, and giving information to the visitors who are thronging to the encampment headquarters.

Spurious souvenir badges have been put in circulation, and the police are hunting for the makers and sellers.

INDIANS, BURNED TO DEATH.

Their Dead Bodies Furnish Food For Wolves and Buzzards.

POKEGAMA, Minn., Sept. 3.—A courier brings the report that the bodies of 23 Chippewa Indians, bucks, squaws and papposes, lie upon the baked sands between here and Opstead, a small settlement on the eastern shores of Lac Mille Lacs.

They are scattered over 10 miles of country and will, in all probability, prove food for wolves and buzzards, as the country where they died is too far from civilization for burial ceremonies. The Indians left their reservation two months ago and built a hunting lodge along one of the forks of Shadridge creek. Chief Wauconta was the "big chief" of the party, and he perished with his followers. Twenty-three bodies were counted in a distance of few miles.

Three Children Burned to Death.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 8.—In Perry county, last night, John Spain, a farmer, went to prayer meeting with his wife, leaving their three small children locked up at home. When they returned the house was in ashes and in the debris was found the charred bones of the children.
